TREASURE CHEST

to those who have sung our Alma Mater

ALMA MATER

On the city's eastern border
Reared against the sky,
Proudly stands our Alma Mater
As the years roll by.

Forward, ever, be our watchword,
Conquer and prevail,
Hail to thee our Alma Mater,
C. H. S. all hail!

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

The seniors of '52 of the town of Childersburg, county of Talladega and state of Alabama being of sound mind and better temper than usual here by take up the serious business of making up a will.

In the course of human events there comes a time to almost every man when he must pause long enough in his hoarding up of riches to decide how his fortune shall be divided. We, the Senior Class of '52 feeling that our sojourn in school is nearing its close, come now with saddened hearts to draw up our Last Will and Testament. Such a moment is a sad one with us, a time of decision as to how the belongings with which we have lived so long and which have became sacred to us shall be disposed.

After careful consideration we have decided that as a whole we would like to give the Juniors of '52 our hard earned knowledge of the trials of seniors. Too we want them to have our basic formula for working hard and pulling together.

To our next of kin we make the following bequests:

Louise Cox leaves her bashful but sweet actions to Patsy Wilson. To Sam Brewer, Bobby Limbaugh, and Robert McMillan, David Macomish leaves his title of "school sheik". J. W. Branson leaves his priviledge of leaving the lunchroom as hungry as he came to Neil Timpleton and Lamar Hall. Joseph Hubbard leaves his wisdom and patience to Robert Reeves and Thomas Tyler. Don Bacon and Pete Limbaugh will their "aches" and "pains" to Don Finn, Roscoe Limbaugh, and Gerome Henson. Lois Vincent gives to Omie Wallis and Charlott Thompson her basketball techniques. Joan Meyers leaves to Carol Rowe and Carolyn Shoemaker her love for the opposite sex.

June Ward, upon demand, shares her outside interest in boys with Carolyn Mauldin and Helen Bean. Ellen Sanders wills her "golden" silence to Kathleen Cox. Jane Golden leaves her ability to catch and hold a man to Frieda Rogers and Margie Parker. Jo Ann Waldrip leaves her ability to see all the shows in town to Bettye Bell. To James Hart and Gene Sherrill goes Billy Barnett's interest in Leatrice Cooper.

Charles Parker wills to Hearal Guess and Leon Edgeworth his entire interest in Jitney Jungle. Ronald Shoemaker bequeaths his good looks and his technique to win the opposite sex to Charles Maddox and Gerome Henson. A. D. Shaw wills his timidity and shyness to James Hill and Caroll Hurst. James Rich leaves his ever supply of chewing gum to Mildred Wright.

Jimmy McGhee wills his ability to "pest" to Delano Lee. Bill Moynihan wills his ability to get along with teachers to Charles Watters and Allen McInnish. Kathryn York leaves to Glenda Bailey her bountiful supply of excuses for being absent. Medie Jo Wallis leaves her place in the Glee Club to Bertie Vincent. Bobby Springer shares her ambition to be an excellent nurse with Virginia Hollis and Mary Ann Grice. Joyce Burnett leaves her willing smile to Genie Gardner and Rebecca Breedlove. Barbara Browning leaves her career as Mrs. Graham's secretary to Gloria Armbrester, or perhaps Barbara Owings.

Bettye Joan Butts shares her love for tall boys and Pontiacs with Shirley Traylor. Bonnie Russell transmits her quiet manner to Vivian Presley. Shirley Ann Joiner by request gives her "cow" to Celia Holmes. Sara Vawter bequeaths her "giggles" to Betty Lou Lyle. Patsy Fleck offers her Red Cross drives to Ann Kidd and Dorothy Cleckler. Inez Gore wills her ability to play the piano, especially for her boy friends to Margaret Bennett. Janice Riley leaves to Bettye Fannin and Thelma Maxwell her love for all her teachers. June Rutherford wills her many long hours of study to Essie Hornsby and Helen Edwards. Morris Owings regretfully gives his chemistry book to Faye Kidd.

Billy Billingsley leaves to Davis Bassett the rules for the captain of a football team. To Eugenia Vincent, Joyce Giddens leaves her domestic problems. Charles Dillard leaves his grit to take Mrs. Watwood's test to Ethel Hart and Elloise Cagle.

And we, Mary Frances Cliett and Louise Jones, leave to some unfortunate member of the Junior Class the headaches, worries, and sleepless nights spent while writing this "Last Will and Testament."

CLASS HISTORY

The History of the class of 1952 is so colorful and dramatic that it resembles a play. We shall call this play "The Class of '52."

This play has three acts. All the scenes take place in Childersburg School.

Act One begins when one little girl and three little boys enter the large school building holding "Mommy's" hand. Although they are shy and afraid they soon make many friends and settle down to the job of learning. These little people, Mary Frances Cliett, Jimmy McGhee, James Richa and Pete Limbaugh, little realize the fun and hardships that they will have before the play is finished.

Act Two opens as the little actors, who have grown large and who have been joined by Medie Jo Wallis, Sara Vawter, Jane Golden, Lois Vincent, Jo Ann Waldrip, Bonnie Russell, June Ward, Patsy Fleck, Joyce Burnett, Kathryn York, Barbara Browning, Louise Jones, David Bassett, Charles Dillard, J. W. Branson, Billy Billingsley, Joseph Hubbard, Billy Barnett and A. D. Shaw, during the last five years, enter Jr. Hi school. As act two progresses new actors, Shirley Joiner, Bettye Butts, Ellen Sanders, Janice Riley, and Ronald Shoemaker, Don Bacon, Morris Owings and Charles Parker, join the play and soon they find themselves enjoying Hi school in Childersburg more and more.

At last, Act Three arrives. The actors waited long and patiently for the day when they would enter Sr. Hi School. The tenth grade is not much different from the ninth, except that the students feel a little more important.

Then comes their Jr. year. Again newcomers join the play. They are Joan Meyers, Bobbie Springer, June Rutherford, and David Macomish. The Jr.'s work hard planning and preparing a banquet in honor of the Seniors.

At last, they themselves become Seniors. New actors again join the play. These are Inez Gore, Louise Cox, Joyce Giddens, and Bill Moynihan. This play started with four actors and as it progressed many joined while a few dropped out for various reasons.

The actors are very busy during their last year. Most of them are important members of the various school clubs. Five of the boys receive football letters, some are members of the band, Kathryn York gets second place in the Talladega County Turkey Frestival, Jane Golden and David Bassett are elected Harvest King and Queen of the school, and Mary Frances Cliett is elected Good Citizenship girl. The Class publishes the school paper, "The Tiger's Roar," and the annual, "The Treasure Chest." They attend the Jr. & Sr. banquet, stage the Senior play and go on the Senior Trip.

At the climax of this play, the curtain is rung down on the thirty-nine successful actors, each is holding a Childersburg High School diploma in his hand signifying twelve hard, but glorious years.

CLASS PROPHECY

May 26, 1962

Dear Lois,

As I've just heard from all our classmates I thought I'd write you all the latest news. First of all Janice Riley is head nurse in Kalamazoo and one of her patients is the well known dance partner of Vera Ellen, Jimmy "Jut Slimy" McGhee, who had fallen and fractured his skull... Medie Jo Wallis is teaching piano lessons... Barbara Browning is secretary to an Atomic Bomb Scientist... and can you imagine, Inez Gore is living with her hubby in Fort Payne... Joyce Giddens remains a sweet little wife in "The Burg"... Sara Lou Vawter has completed a Home Economics course... Louise Cox owns and operates a beauty salon in Anniston... Bonnie June Russell owns a chain of cafes in Alabama... Joyce Burnett is a cover girl for Mim's Studio... Ellen Sanders has completed her business course and is now secretary to Billy Barnett, the famous movie star playing with Lash La Rue in Hollywood... Patsy Fleck is head of the National Red Cross with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland... Jane Golden is an air line hostess for Cross continental Airlines... Billy Billingsley has published his first book, "How Not To Be An Unsuccessful Football Player" and on his board of directors are Ronald "Understanding" Shoemaker and Don "Aching" Bacon... Joan Meyers and her latest husband, Duke of Tryagain are on a cruise to South America with their six children... Kathryn York is in Pennsylvania teaching her twins, Viola Sue and Zora Lou the fundamentals of being a successful comedian... When last seen Bettye Butts was assisting her husband install a television set for Louise Jones' family (a husband and 7 boys, age ranging from 6 months to 10 years.)... Shirley Joiner has finally got her cow, in fact she is owner of the B-Bar Ranch in Comerdale, Texas... A. D. Shaw is manager of the Green Bound Bus Line... Jo Ann Waldrip is modeling grass skirts in Hawaii... Morris Owings is a successful surgeon in Mayo Clinic... J. W. Branson is touring the country lecturing on "How To Live Without One Tooth"... Charles Dillard is coaching Professional Basketball... Charles Parker is manager of Blootney Blungle... Joseph Hubbard is pastor of the First Baptist Church of Gobblers Knob on Turkey Hill... Mary Frances Cliett is band director at Harvard and with her is David Macomish III, following dad's footsteps and playing the bass in her band... I attended David Bassett's latest hill-billy concert in Bon Air where he sang "Rock-a-Bye, I'm A Daddy Now"... James "Ear" Rich is owner of a chain of rolling stores ... Pete Limbaugh is Brigadier General of National Guards in Montgomery ... June Rutherford and her husband own a resort in Pensacola, Florida... I guess you've heard that "Bobbie Springer and I are to return to Korea as nurses. You must write me about your trip to Paris with the Women's World Olympic Basketball team.

Love
June Ward
